

Frequently Asked Questions

These are some of the most common questions we've received from students of Divorce Decoded.

→ What if I can't watch the Modules in 7 weeks or I want to go faster?

No problem. Divorce Decoded is designed so you can complete it at your own pace. You will have access to all the materials at the time of purchase and will have lifetime access in your course library.

→ How do I prevent my spouse from seeing the charge for this course on my credit card?

Since many women do not want their spouse to find out they're doing this course, here are a few ways you can hide the charge if they have access to your credit card information: 1) Use a pre-purchased gift/debit card 2) Ask a trusted friend/family member to put the charge on their card and you reimburse them in cash 3) As a last resort, reach out to Amy at amypolacko@gmail.com about paying with a money order (allow for more time to process this payment and get course access). We want to help you make this happen without compromising your privacy. Obviously, we also advise using a secure email for course registration and correspondence.

→ Isn't it better to just start the process with an attorney?

No, for many reasons. First of all, many attorneys advise their clients to hire coaches first and then an attorney. That's because clients will become knowledgeable about the process before they start legal action. It's also crucial to hire the best attorney for you and your particular case. Divorce Decoded covers how to find the right one and ask them the right questions. Preparation before hiring an attorney also helps you save money on legal bills. In this course, we outline materials you can gather to streamline the process and reduce the amount of time attorney's have to bill you.

→ Can't I just figure out how to get a divorce on my own?

While you certainly can do research yourself on things like how someone is served divorce papers in your state for example, this course provides much more: the expertise of a Divorce Coach and collective experience of hundreds of women. Many of the realities of family court and tricks your spouse could use against you are not widely written about - and are often learned after the fact. Divorce Decoded is designed to be a robust resource of information on the divorce process and invaluable advice from those in the trenches about what to do, and what not to do from insiders.

→ Shouldn't I just use the money I spend on the course toward an attorney?

One of the biggest shocks for people who are new to the divorce process, is how quickly legal bills add up. Attorneys charge roughly $300 per hour on average across the United States. In many areas, this is more like $500, $800 or even $1000 per hour. Every time your lawyer reads an email, takes your phone call or works on your case, they are billing you. Divorce Decoded contains hours of instruction, worksheets and bonus videos that will prepare and empower you to get what you want in your divorce. All these resources come at the price of roughly one hour of an attorney's time. We think this is an incredible investment that will help reduce the time you need to spend consulting your attorney.

→ What are the bonuses?

Getting an hour of expertise from a mediator/attorney, an hour from a litigator and an hour from a Certified Financial Divorce Analyst is usually hard to come by. But you will receive these three videos for free as bonuses when you purchase Divorce Decoded. These professionals have been vetted by Amy Polacko and she is intimately familiar with their work and track record - including getting results for some of her coaching clients.

→ What if I am not satisfied?

We know that you are going to receive tremendous value from this course. But just in case you are not satisfied, we will offer a 30-day money-back guarantee. In that timeframe, you should learn some crucial parts about moving forward with divorce - the emotional factor, the legal options, how to hire the right attorney, how to prepare yourself for the financial aspect of divorce and all about custody issues. During the first four modules, we expect that your confidence and knowledge will be growing exponentially. But if that does not happen for you, you can show Amy and her team that you completed the modules and worksheets and are still not satisfied with your investment. And we will give you a full refund!
